Key Benefits

1 Maximum Income

Enhanced monthly income from premiums received through options selling and a return on cash.

2 Upside Exposure

Participation in the upside potential of GLD up to the options' strike price.

3 Downside Protection

Income generated from selling options may help cushion against market downturns.

Key Risks

- The covered call strategy caps the upside potential of the underlying stocks.
- While the premium income can offset some losses, the underlying stocks can still decline in value, leading to potential capital losses.
- Please see the 'Risks Factors' section of the base prospectus of Leverage Shares plc relevant to an investor's jurisdiction (the "Relevant Prospectus") for a more detailed discussion of the potential risks associated with an investment in this product.

Risk Warnings

The value of an investment in ETPs may go down as well as up and past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. An investment in ETPs is dependent on the performance of the underlying index, less costs, but it is not expected to match that performance precisely. ETPs offering daily leveraged or daily short exposures ("Leveraged ETPs") are products which feature specific risks that prospective investors should understand before investing in them.

Securities issued by the Issuer are products involving a significant degree of risk and may not be suitable for all types of investor. Any decision to invest should be based on the information contained in the Relevant Prospectus of the Issuer (or any supplements thereto) which includes, inter alia, information on certain risks associated with an investment. The price of any securities may go up or down and an investor may not get back the amount invested. Securities are priced in US Dollars/Euros/Pounds and the value of the investment in other currencies will be affected by exchange rate movements.

Investment strategies providing a concentrated exposure to a specific basket of stocks heightens the impact of illiquidity of any such stock on the ETPs, particularly during an environment with significant price declines and inclines. Furthermore, the volatility of the ETPs is also intensified due to their concentrated exposure.

Please refer to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Relevant Prospectus for further details of these and other risks associated with an investment in concentrated exchange-traded products. You should consult an independent investment adviser prior to making an investment in these exchange-traded products in order to determine their suitability to your circumstances.
